Information for contributors

The conference aims to provide a friendly, informal environment in which colleagues from the University and its partner colleges can discuss research matters and share their experience. Offers of seminars, presentations or workshop sessions relating to the following themes will be particularly welcome:

- improving participation, retention and progression
- enhancing teaching, learning, assessment or achievement at all levels of HE
- curriculum development
- transition into and trajectories through HE
- relations between HE and learning in other settings, including work and the community
- the ‘student experience’
- research methodology
- digital practices

We would also like to encourage presentations relating to work-in-progress, which we find often provide the most interesting conference sessions.

There is no preferred style or method of presentation, but we would particularly like to encourage you to consider including opportunities for discussion in your session. The length of each session is usually 40-45 minutes. Alternatively, if you would prefer to make a poster or other visual presentation, these will also be very welcome.

You are welcome to discuss your idea initially with Rachel Masika and Adrian Chown in the Centre for Learning and Teaching (on extensions 2686 and 4551 respectively or email at r.j.masika@brighton.ac.uk or a.m.chown@brighton.ac.uk).

The closing date for proposals is Friday 18th November 2016.
