Hello Sammy,

You may be aware of the emerging concern about the Coronavirus that is currently most prevalent in Wuhan city, Hubei Province, China.

The risk to the UK, as reported by PHE, remains low. However, you may have concerns about travel or be worried about family and friends who could be nearer to the impacted region. Therefore, please click here for up-to-date information about the virus, and click here for travel advice.

We always recommend students register with local health services and seek medical advice from their GP or by dialling 111 if feeling unwell, particularly with respiratory symptoms such as a cough, fever or breathing difficulties.

For non-medical advice, please contact your Student Support and Guidance Tutor (SSGT) if you have been impacted by the outbreak or would like to speak to someone about it at the University.

Your sincerely,

Student Services
