SPONSORSHIP POLICY FOR INTERNATIONAL STUDENTS

1. Purpose
This document is intended for all international applicants and students who require a visa to study at the university, and for all staff in the university who support them. The UK Home Office’s ‘Tier 4 of the Points Based System: Guidance for Sponsors’¹ document makes it clear that the university is required to act as the student’s sponsor during their studies. The Home Office describe sponsorship as a privilege and not a right. Sponsors benefit directly from migration and, to continue as a sponsor, are expected to fulfil certain duties in order to ensure that immigration control is maintained. Providers like universities must be able to show that they can fulfil, and are fulfilling, these sponsor duties in order to gain and retain a Tier 4 licence.

This policy sets out the responsibilities of all relevant applicants, students and staff of the University of Brighton to comply with:

1. The UK Home Office requirements for sponsoring students to gain entry clearance or leave to remain under Tier 4 of the Points Based Immigration System study in the UK;
2. The UKVI requirements for entry clearance for the purposes of short term study
3. The UKVI requirements for the Doctorate Extension Scheme; and
4. The UKVI requirements for sponsoring students under the Start-Up scheme;

Updated GK 11.07.2019
Annex A – Guidance on Academic Progress for CAS applicants

In interpreting the Home Office rules, the University of Brighton has developed the guidance below. Please use the Undergraduate and Postgraduate awards framework in Section D of the General Examination and Awards Regulations (GEAR) to ascertain the RQF level of a course. The qualification aim of the course applied to is the academic course level used on the CAS.

Who does it affect?

Applicants
If you are applying for Tier 4 (General) leave to remain in the UK, the university is required to include a statement on your CAS confirming that you will be making academic progress from any study previously undertaken in the UK during a period of Tier 4 (General) student or pre-Tier 4 student leave, and the study for which the CAS is assigned, regardless of whether or not a previous course of study was completed.

Sponsors are not required to assess academic progress if a student has never previously been granted Tier 4 (General) or pre-Tier 4 student leave, or are applying for Tier 4 (General) entry clearance from outside of the UK.

If the rules do apply to you, the university will assess your academic progress as part of the CAS assessment procedures. There it is important that you include full details of previous Tier 4 (General) or pre-Tier 4 student leave in the CAS Questionnaire.

Enrolled students
If you are applying for Tier 4 (General) leave to remain to extend your stay in the UK, the university is required to include a statement on your CAS confirming that are making academic progress, unless the reasons for extending your stay are exempt from the requirement. The exemptions are:

- to complete re-sit examinations or repeat modules, or in order to complete a course in respect of which the student has previously re-sat examinations or repeated modules;
- to complete a PhD or other doctoral qualification;
- to undertake a role as a Students’ Union sabbatical officer or to complete the qualification the sabbatical officer was studying before undertaking that role;
- those making a first application to complete an existing course commenced at a Tier 4 sponsor that had its licence revoked;
- to apply for Tier 4 (General) student leave under the doctorate extension scheme;
- to apply for Tier 4 (General) student leave in order to undertake an intercalated bachelor’s or master’s degree course or PhD if they are studying medicine, veterinary medicine and science or dentistry. The exception also covers those applying for leave to complete their principal course after having completed a period of intercalation.

You cannot apply for Tier 4 (General) leave to remain from within the UK where the Immigration Rules prohibit a student from making a successful visa application from within the UK.

What is academic progress?
If the university does need to confirm on the CAS that you are making academic progress, you will need to:
• have successfully completed the course for which the Confirmation of Acceptance for Studies relating to the study undertaken during the last period of leave as a Tier 4 (General) Student or pre-Tier 4 student;

OR

• be applying for leave to allow progress from:
  i. a Bachelors to Masters level course as part of an integrated Masters course, or
  ii. a Masters to PhD level course as part of an integrated Masters and PhD programme

AND

• the course must be above the RQF level of the previous course for which the Confirmation of Acceptance of Studies relating to the study undertaken during the last period of leave as a Tier 4 (General) student or as a pre-Tier 4 student was assigned;

UNLESS

• the university can demonstrate following assessment that:
  i. the course is related to the previous course for which the applicant was granted leave as a Tier 4 (General) student or pre-Tier 4 student (the course is either connected to the previous course, part of the same subject group, or involves deeper specialisation); or
  ii. the previous course and the new course in combination support the applicant’s genuine career aspirations.
ANNEX B – Guidance for applicants and students whose application for Entry Clearance or Leave to Remain has been refused or returned as invalid

Entry Clearance
If the Home Office returns your application for Entry Clearance as refused you should contact the International Student Advisors in Student Services at the University of Brighton immediately. They will advise you on your options under the relevant Immigration Rules. If, after discussion with the International Student Advisors, you may be eligible to make a new Tier 4 (General) application you will need to request a new CAS.

A second CAS can only be issued if all of the criteria set out in the Sponsorship Policy for International Students are met. In some circumstances applicants may be required to provide the university with evidence that they meet the Tier 4 maintenance requirements as set out in the Immigration Rules.

Leave to remain
If the Home Office returns your application for Leave to Remain as invalid or refused you should contact the International Student Advisors in Student Services at the University of Brighton immediately to discuss your options. If, after discussion with the International Student Advisors, you may be eligible to make a new Tier 4 (General) application you will need to request a new CAS.

If your Leave to Remain application is returned as invalid or refused and you have stayed in the UK beyond the expiry date of your current immigration permission, you may become an overstayer. The International Student Advisors will advise if you are an overstayer, and whether you are eligible to make a new application for Leave to Remain and a CAS (see Annex C Policy on Overstayers). If you may be eligible to make a new Tier 4 (General) application you will need to request a new CAS. A second CAS can only be issued if all of the criteria set out in the Sponsorship Policy for International Students are met. In some circumstances applicants may be required to provide the university with evidence that they meet the Tier 4 maintenance requirements as set out in the Immigration Rules.

This does not apply to the Doctorate Extension Scheme (Tier 4 (DES)) applicants who must not be overstayers.

ANNEX C – University of Brighton policy on overstayers

1. Definition of overstayer
1.1 An overstayer is a person who was granted limited leave (permission) to enter or remain in the UK but who stays in the UK beyond the expiry of that leave (without making an application to extend or vary that leave on or before the date it expires).
1.2 A period of overstay continues from the day after a person’s leave expires to either the date on which they leave the UK, or if they are permitted to apply for leave to remain, the date on which they are granted further leave by the Home Office.
1.3 It should be noted that if a person applies to the Home Office to extend or vary their existing leave on or before the date their leave expires (an ‘in-time’ application), they do not become an overstayer if the Home Office does not make a decision on their application until after their leave expires, which is normally the case23.

2. Consequences of overstaying
2.1 Overstaying is a criminal offence, although it is rare for an overstayer to be prosecuted. However, it is also a breach of the immigration laws and an overstayer is liable for detention and/or removal from the UK.
2.2 Overstayers are prohibited from working (an employer commits a criminal offence by hiring them). Recent legislation also prevents overstayers from renting property, driving lawfully, or opening a bank account (and their existing accounts can be closed or frozen by the bank). Studying while overstaying is neither explicitly prohibited nor permitted by law.
2.3 Overstaying also has an impact on future applications for leave to enter or remain. If someone overstays for more than 30 days and leaves the UK to make an application to return, any such application will be automatically refused for a period of 12 months. If someone overstays for more than 14 days they cannot apply successfully for further leave to remain in the UK. Even if they only overstay for 14 days or less they can only apply successfully for leave to remain if they have a ‘good reason’, or after being refused further leave in specific situations (see Exceptions).

3. Students’ Duties
3.1 The university expects all of its students, whom are subject to immigration control, to have valid leave to enter or remain throughout the duration of their courses and that they are able and willing to provide the original evidence of that leave to the university whenever requested.
3.2 The university recognises that there will be times when its students have applied to the Home Office to extend or vary their leave and so will be unable to provide proof of having current leave. However, in such cases we will require the student to provide proof that they have made a valid ‘in-time’ application, and that they are benefitting from section 3C leave, in the form of the original relevant Home Office documents.
3.3 Students who overstay their leave will not be sponsored under Tier 4 and therefore not issued a Confirmation of Acceptance of Studies (CAS), unless they can clearly demonstrate that their circumstances meet one of the three exceptions below.

23 This is by virtue of section 3C of the Immigration Act 1971, which protects someone from becoming an overstayer if they make a valid in-time application for further leave and the Home Office does not make a decision on their application until after their leave expires. During the time the Home Office takes to make a decision on their application the person benefits from section 3C leave by continuing on the same conditions as their previous leave permitted. Section 3C leave continues until the Home Office makes a decision to grant further leave to remain, or if the Home Office refuses the application, (in most cases) until any Administrative Review (or appeal) is finally determined.
4. Exceptions

4.1 Paragraph E39(1) of the immigration rules allows someone to make an application for leave to remain within 14 days of their leave expiring (i.e. after having overstayed for 14 days or less) but only if the Home Office considers that they have a ‘good reason’ beyond their control as to why they did not make an ‘in-time’ application.

The Home Office only considers one of the situations below to be a ‘good reason’ in these circumstances (Modernised Guidance Application from Overstayers):

- the applicant was admitted to hospital for emergency treatment (evidenced by an official letter verifying the dates of admission and discharge and the nature of the treatment); or
- a close family bereavement; or
