“Climate, Oceans and Coastal Communities Conference”

Thursday 10th October 2019
5.30pm Huxley Foyer and H300

This important Conference on Climate, Oceans and Coastal Communities aims to help understanding the environmental, economic and social consequences of global warming and climate change among coastal communities, at global and local level. We will have keynote speakers who are experts in the fields of Environment, Social Sciences and Economics, providing analysis, sharing their perspectives and offering crucial potential solutions, encompassing a holistic approach to climate action. The event will end with a panel discussion and delegates will have the opportunity to pose questions to the panellists.

The Brighton Futures are a new thematic agenda at the heart of our Research and Enterprise Strategic Plan 2017–2021. The five Brighton Futures set out our distinctive approach and strengthen our identity as a locally-embedded, globally-influential university. They describe who we are, what we do and the futures we are helping to build.
